

Object of Expenditure Codes

- September 2006 Object Code Revision Summary
- April 2011 New Object Codes

Object codes (line items) are used to budget, account, and report costs according to the types of goods or services purchased/consumed. Object codes are not intended to show the purpose or function served or accomplished by the proposed or actual disbursement. In order for object data to be meaningful, object codes must be used consistently by and between departments from year-to-year. Listing updated 4/14/11.

Departments may account for objects in more detail than are shown in this section. However, such object detail maintained in departmental systems must accumulate logically into the object codes identified/authorized in this section.
